

This wireframe design includes changes made that occured during the development of the application. I learned how to use context actions, so opted to use those to carry out all of the major functions of the app besides the adding function.

The context actions can be displayed by "Long Pressing" on a menu item.